

BINGO

...but with a twist!

The game we all know and enjoy with an added feature: a wheel of penalties! Grab a bingo set, some prizes, and a computer and gather some friends. The wheel correlates to the rules on the next page. Some rules are specific to a group I play with but certainly change up as the game goes by and vibes change...

- 8 bingos reset the balls
- Repeat of a call gets a spin for whoever requested it
- Emcee can administer spins as seen fit
- If you can't make it to the emcee to have the card checked, no bingo
- Game ends when all prizes are claimed
- A bingo is a choice of prize or pick someone to spin the wheel

Say the Pledge of Allegiance *bonus if you sing it*

Hop on one leg for 20 seconds

Find the warrior princess *for every hint draw another*

Take a drink

Group drink

Take a shot of whatever group decides

Take a shot of whatever you like

Say the alphabet forwards then backwards *every time you mess up you have to start over*

Hide the warrior princess *if not found throw this back in*

Choose the next song and volume

Wear socks on your hands for ten minutes

Take everyone's drink orders

Make up a story about an item in the room

Say a pick-up line to the person on your left

Say a pick-up line to the person on your right

Impersonate someone in the room and we guess it

Howl like a wolf
